

Edible Oil Crops - Land Use Efficiency

Oil palm is the world's most efficient edible oil crop in terms of land utilization, efficiency, and productivity. A single hectare of land produces 10 times more oil than other oilseeds. Globally oil palm produces just as much oil as soy, yet utilizes only one tenth the land area.